

SAINT MAXIMILIAN KOLBE NET SUNDAY 1 JUNE 2025

Band Conditions on 40 Meters this evening were like a magic trick. First you see it, then you don't! Thank you for patience - I had about half the net and then at the beginning of the 73 round I lost almost everyone. The whole thing reminded me a little bit of the "SIDS" I used to experience in the Western Pacific! Here's who I did hear:

40 Meter Net

K2MR- Ron
W2NED- Ned
N4TII - Deacon John
K3DCR – Chris
K3QNT – Lloyd
W3TOM – Tom W2LJ – Larry
KB3H – John
K7PGD/4 Paul (Via PP West Palm Beach, FL)
KK4RF – Marty
VE3IXX – Bob

Hopefully things will improve next Sunday!

- K3RMW - Bill - North Carolina
- W3TOM - Tom - Maryland
- NR2Z - Dominic - North Carolina
- KQ4BAD - Joseph (Ben) - Alabama
- N0VYU - Scott - Minnesota

Poor or no conditions tonight. Tom said a very large solar event this afternoon kind of wiped out the 20 meter band. Looking at my scope there is very little activity.

We got thru it the best we could. Have better luck on 40 tonight.

73's N0VYU

Have a great week! God Bless & 73. Say a prayer for improved solar activity.
